

Enjoy the superb luxury of a second home on the banks of LOCH Lomond

To protect Scotland's precious and most beautiful land, in 2002 Scotland's first National Park was formed taking in Loch Lomond, the Trossachs and part of Argyll. Situated at the very heart of the National Park lies Inverbeg Holiday Park on the western bank of Loch Lomond, 4 miles north of the picturesque village of Luss and approximately 35 minutes drive from Glasgow.

With a wide variety of self catering lodges and caravans nestling on the banks of Loch Lomond, the sheer beauty and tranquillity of all before you is something that most can only dream of. As well as luxury holiday lodges and caravans there is a children's adventure play area, a laundry and a well-stocked shop (open Easter to October).

Affordable holiday homes in a range of styles and prices and on a selection of pitches are available on the park which benefits from its own harbour and slipway. New or previously owned modern, comfortable lodges can be sourced and sited, depending on pitch availability. You can arrange to be present during the design of your own lodge and choose either a stylish, contemporary or more traditional homely interior with floor plans and layouts tailored to personal taste.

If you plan to bring your own boat, the Park has excellent boating facilities making it perfect for water sports, cruising Loch Lomond or fishing. If you fancy a 'wee dram', the popular Inverbeg Inn with its bar and restaurant is just a few hundred yards walking distance from the Holiday Park.

All of this, together with luxury self catering accommodation at Loch Lomond, makes Inverbeg Holiday Park the perfect base for touring Scotland.